Tutoring Experience

My journey as a tutor began in 2012 when I started working with GCSE students struggling with English. I quickly realised my passion for helping students understand complex texts and develop their analytical skills. Over the years, I have expanded my tutoring services to include IB and IGCSE TOK, English, Extended Essay, and Religious Studies. My experience spans private one-on-one sessions and group tutoring in both online and face-to-face settings. I have worked with students from various backgrounds, tailoring my approach to meet their unique needs. Many of my students have achieved top grades, and I take pride in helping them unlock their full potential. My aim is always to create an engaging and supportive learning environment where students feel empowered to succeed.
